8th Annual Meeting of the US DOHaD Society
Exploring Translational DOHaD Science: From Cells to Communities
October 14-16, 2024 - Chapel Hill, NC

October 14 - Welcome Reception
- Jerry Heindel, PhD - HEEDS/NIEHS
  The History and Future of DOHaD
- Matt Gillman, PhD - ECHO/UNC
  US DOHaD and the NIH ECHO Program

October 15 - Topic 1: Developmental Impacts of Toxicant Exposures
- Rosalind Wright, MD MPH - Mount Sinai
- Dorothy Nakiwala, PhD - University of Colorado

October 15 - Topic 2: Prenatal Origins of Child Health
- James Gern, MD - University of Wisconsin
  "Microbial Origins of Childhood Asthma"
- Christina Chambers, PhD - University of California San Diego
  "Contribution of prenatal substance exposures to health and disease across the lifespan"

October 15 - Topic 3: Early Nutrition and Developmental Outcomes
- Marisa Spann, PhD - Columbia University
  "Maternal Immune Activation as a Primary Influencer of the Developing Human Brain"
- Maureen Black, PhD - University of Maryland
  "Thriving Infants: A Pathway to Strong Communities"
- John Colombo, PhD - University of Kansas Medical Center
  "Long-Term Effects of Early Nutrition on Neurodevelopmental Outcomes"

October 16 - Topic 4: Metabolic Origins of Health
- Bruce Blumberg, PhD - University of California Irvine
  "Higher order chromatin structure underlies transgenerational epigenetic inheritance of the effects of prenatal obesogen exposure"
- Cetewayo Rashid, PhD - University of Kentucky
  "Metabolism-Disrupting Chemicals: Legacy Exposures and Emerging Threats"

October 16 - Topic 5: Maximizing Translational Impact of DOHaD Research
- Christopher Kuzawa, PhD - Northwestern University
  "Evolutionary insights into the challenges of translating DOHaD science into social policy"

Abstract submission is open and due August 1st for poster and oral presentation consideration
8th Annual Meeting of the US DOHaD Society
Exploring Translational DOHaD Science:
From Cells to Communities
October 14-16, 2024 - Chapel Hill, NC

TRAINEE DAY - OCTOBER 14, 2024

Morning Sessions: Professional Development

- Scientific and Grant Writing Workshop
- Professional Headshots
- Presentation Skills Sessions
- DOHaD CONNECT

Afternoon Sessions: Leadership Development

- Professional Branding
- Burnout Busters
- Trainee Networking
- Yoga
- Walk and Talk Trails

Evening: Welcome Reception and Poster Presentations

Abstracts for presentation consideration due August 1st, 2024

Abstract Guidelines • Submit your abstract here!